QuietSleeve® 3008 is a tubular protective sleeve designed to provide excellent noise suppression and abrasion resistance. Composed of a non-woven polyester and polypropylene scrim, the product is lightweight and its thickness provides superior noise suppression performance for rattling/rubbing noise caused by vibrations.

QuietSleeve 3008 has proper stiffness that facilitates harness insertion work into through holes. The product also has great weatherability, enabling it to be applied to areas in wetting risk such as door harnesses.

QuietSleeve 3008's unique design allows for quick and easy bundling of wire and cable assemblies. Compared to multiple component solutions such as vinyl tube and urethane foam, QuietSleeve 3008 provides a single product solution that reduces complexity and installation time.
